XOOMS is a unique production company specializing in the science and technology.

Our motto is "correct, fast and innovative." We support every R&D activity through the fusion of arts and science, creating attractive and original visual contents to transfer the important information.

The AR (Augmented Reality) demonstration for entertainment, art and education.

The system creates very realistic "experiences" by synthesizing the camera-captured environment view and the computer-generated 3D on the VR headset (Oculus Rift).

Our demonstration includes the entertainment-content where you can enjoy the control of the drone (quad-copter) flying in the real environment.

We are also planning to show the "tabletop art museum" - the virtual art works on the real tabletop using the AR technology.

Enjoy the neo-futuristic experience that arises from the fusion of the real and the virtual worlds!
